

Department:	Faculty of Humanities and Arts
Course Name	Integrated Marketing Communication
Hours per week	3
Number of Credits	3
Course Description	The course uses an integrated approach to study marketing and communication. Special emphasis is placed on its theories, basic concepts, media use, planning procedures and case studies. Students will have a view not only on communications, but also on wider and deeper interdisciplinary scopes such as management, organization, and marketing.