

Department:	Faculty of Information Technology
Course Name	Projects on Software Engineering
Hours per week	4
Number of Credits	4
Course Description	The students are requested to join a team and select a system to be developed, such as: hotel management system, library information system, etc. They must develop software following the principles of software engineering, and work cooperatively in software planning, requirements engineering, system modeling, software design, and so on. The students will receive the practical engineering training of software development and document writing.